

MT. STERLING ADVOCAATE.

A WEEKLY JOURNAL, IDENTICAL IN INTEREST WITH ITS OWN PEOPLE.

VOL. IV.

MT. STERLING, KENTUCKY, TUESDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1893.

NO. 14

All grades of book work done at the ADVOCATE job rooms.

Don't forget to attend the trots at the Fair grounds this week.

J. G. Trimble shipped to Columbus, Ga., on Friday last, a car load of "nice horses and mules."

Nicholasville's registration stands thus: 211 Democrats, 211 Republicans, and 9 Prohibitionists.

John Rockefeller has given $575,000 for the purpose of establishing a home for poor aged Baptist ministers.

Posters, bill heads, letter heads, in fact all kinds of job work turned out neatly at the ADVOCATE job rooms.

The ladies of the Southern Presbyterian Church, will open an exchange as soon as they can find a window suitable for the occasion.

W. T. Havens will move his family to Frankfort. His paper, the Mt. Sterling Sentinel-Democrat, is for sale.—Louisville Times.

Married, in this city, on Monday, October 30, Michael Carey, of Ashland, to Miss Nannie McKnight, of Olympia, Elder B. W. Trimble officiating.

It was thought that a vote on the Vorhees Repeal Bill would be reached yesterday afternoon, and that this week would see the end of the agitation.

Judge L. F. Mann has gained his suit against the K. U. Railroad Co. and the Richmond, Beattyville, & Irvine Railroad, for $30,000 for work done on the construction of these roads.

The suit of the Commonwealth involving the removal of the Columbia Finance & Trust Co., as Trustee of the New Farmers' Bank and the appointment of a permanent Receiver, will be heard by Judge John E. Cooper tomorrow.

Wouldn't this be a propitious time for John C. Wood, Republican candidate for city Judge, to revive his negro column in his sweetest sheet, the Gazette. "Behold how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity."

Hon. J. L. Elliston, now a practicing attorney in Covington of the firm of Elliston & Green, is in the city with his family for a few days. When he returns to Covington he will take his family with him. We are glad to learn that his prospects are very flattering.

Miss Daisy Garland, the bright and highly accomplished daughter of ex-Attorney General Garland, resided at her father's residence in Washington on Friday, by shooting herself through the heart with a pistol. Her remains will be taken to Little Rock, Ark., for burial.

Noble Holder, who was arrested in Powell county, charged with the murder of Miss Loretta Trimble, had an examining trial last week and was discharged. Friday two negroes, John and George Stoner, were arrested, charged with the murder and jail, and their examining trial was held before Judge Apperson Monday. They waived an examination and were mandated to jail to await the action of the grand jury.

Many years ago a poor boy left his humble hillside home in Missouri, and with small baggage, footed his way to Georgetown college, and calling for the President said: "I have come here to get an education." In him were the elements that produce great and useful men, and he was bent on attaining eminence. It was a struggle, but he labored on against an opposing current and at last mastered the full course and went out into the world preaching the gospel strengthening saints and warning sinful men of an eternal doom, and to-day that once poor illiterate boy is a shining light and President of the college he sought for an education. We refer to Dr. A. C. Davidson, who preached to the Baptist congregation Sunday morning and evening and delighted his hearers. Should he come to Mt. Sterling again, we bespeak for him much larger congregations.

MURDERED!

Chicago's Popular Mayor, Carter Harrison, Foully Murdered.

THE MURDERER EVIDENTLY CRAZY.

Carter H. Harrison, five times Mayor of the city of Chicago, was assassinated at his home in that city at 7:50 o'clock Saturday night. The murderer, who is undoubtedly demented, is Eugene Patrick Prendergast, a paper carrier on Mr. Harrison's Journal, the Times, and who lived at 630 Jane street. The assassin, who was pursued to a police station, said that he had killed the Mayor because he had promised him the corporation ownership of the city of Chicago and had failed to keep his word.

This, he said, was his only reason for committing the crime. The only person in the house at the time, besides Mr. Harrison, was his son, William Preston Harrison, 25 years of age, and the servants.

Shortly before 8 o'clock the door bell rang, and when Mary Hanson, the domestic, opened the door she was confronted by a man about five feet five inches in height, smooth shaven, and his rather clean cut features lit up by a pair of dark eyes.

"Is Mr. Harrison in?" asked the man in a quiet, pleasant voice.

"Yes, sir," responded the girl, as she threw the door wide open to permit his entrance. "I would like to see him, please," said the man, as he walked toward the back end of the hall. Mr. Harrison was at the time in the dining room which opens into the rear end of the hall. Hearing the man ask for him, he rose and stepped into the hall and walked toward Prendergast, who by this time had caught sight of Mr. Harrison, and had advanced to about ten feet from the doorway.

Without saying a word, Prendergast drew his revolver and commenced to fire. He pulled the trigger but three times, and every bullet hit the mark. One ball shattered Mr. Harrison's left hand, another passed into the lower right side of the abdomen, making a wound that would have been mortal within a few days, and the third bullet entered the chest, slightly above the heart.

This bullet was the immediate cause of Mr. Harrison's death. As soon as Prendergast began to fire, Mr. Harrison turned and walked rapidly toward the dining room. He walked toward the door, across the dining room, and passed into a butler's pantry, at the opening of the room, where weakened by the loss of blood, he fell to the floor. Prendergast did not follow up his victim or make any attempt to ascertain how deadly his aim had been. He replaced his revolver in his pocket with the same deliberation that had marked all of his actions, and started toward the door.

Just as he was passing through the door William Preston Harrison, the mayor's son, came tearing down the stairs from the upper portion of the house, and at the same time Mr. Harrison's coachman ran into the rear of the hall. The cries of Mary Hanson directed the son to where his father lay, but the coachman was after other game. He had a revolver of his own, and as quickly as he realized what had occurred, he leveled the weapon and sent a bullet after the disappearing form of the murderer. For the second time his revolver spoke but both bullets went wild. Running to the door the coachman was prepared to continue hostilities, but several people were entering to learn the cause of the shooting, and by the time the coachman had reached the door the fleeing Prendergast had been swallowed up in the darkness.

A neighbor, Mr. Chalmers, rushed across the street. He reached Mr. Harrison's side almost at the same instant that William Preston Harrison had found where his father lay.

"Are you hurt?" asked Mr. Chalmers, as he and the son of the dying man strove to raise him.

"I've got my death, Chalmers," responded the Mayor. Noticing a spot of blood on the Mayor's waistcoat Mr. Chalmers said, "I guess not."

"I'm shot in the heart and I am a dead man," was the only reply that the dying man made. A moment later he said with a voice that was rapidly losing strength: "Unbutton my vest, Chalmers, there's where the trouble is."

By this time the stricken man had been borne to a couch in an adjoining room, and as quickly as he spoke, Mr. Chalmers gently opened his waistcoat. The front of his shirt was soaked in blood, which welled rapidly from two holes, one just above the heart and the other in the abdomen.

"It's through the heart," said the Mayor again, his voice now scarcely above a whisper. A moment later he sank into unconsciousness, and twenty minutes after receiving the wounds, Carter Harrison was dead.

Carter Harrison a Kentuckian.

HIS CAREER.

Editor Gratz, of Lexington, says: "Carter Harrison was born in this (Fayette) county, near Russell Cave, on the farm now owned by Wm. Kenney, adjoining the famous Elmdorf Stud Farm. I think he was born about 1825, as he is about a year younger than myself. His father died when he (Carter) was quite young. His mother, after becoming quite advanced in life, married Rev. Thos. P. Dudley, the noted Baptist minister. There had been an attachment of many years between them, but Mrs. Dudley being in the Leasae Asylum, he refused to marry during her life, although many of his friends urged him to get a divorce. Mr. Dudley, when so urged, always replied: 'The love of the Lord is the rule of my life.' Carter went to school in Lexington in the old school house that stood in Benjamin Gratz Park, on Mill street, opposite this house we are now sitting in, and exactly like it.

"I went to school with him at the time and knew him well. We were then about fourteen or fifteen years of age. Afterwards he attended Transylvania University graduated there while it was under control of the Methodist, Bishop Bascom, the great Methodist Divine, being President. After graduating he attended Transylvania Law School, the proprietors being Judges Marshall, Wooley and Chief Justice Robertson. Carter was a bright young man of correct habits, studious and highly respected by both professors and classmates. He was very much attached to Lexington and this county, and after leaving here made frequent visits, especially during the life of his mother.

"He was very fond of his old associates, and only the other day he sent me word that he felt hurt at my not calling to see him while I was in Chicago. He went to Chicago some time after graduating from the law school, and having some money when he went there, invested it judiciously and made a great deal of money. He was Congressman from his city, and several times elected Mayor. He was well known here by the elder set, and the news of his death will be received with intense regret."

Capt. G. W. Drake, detective for the K. U. R. R. Co., located at Jackson, was in the city Monday. He was after his prisoner Robert Huff charged with forging two checks, one on Morton & Congleton at Bowen, Powell county, for $15, and one on W. W. Thompson for $6. The prisoner claims he was trading in checks at the time and had given a pistol for the $6 check and a watch and $6 in money for the other. He said he did not know the parties he got the checks from and didn't know where to find them. His was a flimsy story when connected with the fact that since he has been here he has been recognized as the party who had forged other checks.

WATER WORKS!

Contract Closed With Stroh, Conrad, Reed & Co.,

Through Their Representative,

Mr. S. R. Conrad.

Bond for $10,000 Taken and

Work to Begin Dec.

On the 18th day of this month the Mt. Sterling Water Works Company made a proposition to Stroh, Conrad, Reed & Co., Pennsylvania parties, through their agent, Mr. J. M. Pickrell, of this city, and they were given until the 25th inst. to accept same and make bond. Mr. Conrad arrived here on the 25th inst., and in the afternoon the contract was accepted and bond given. In the evening the Water Works Company presented the bond to the Council, and after a few hours of discussion the bond was unanimously approved.

So it seems after these years of work we are at last to have water works. It will cost the city $3,520 per year for hydrant rental, and while this may appear to be an enormous amount, besides the fire protection, the advantages and comforts, it is estimated that there will be an annual saving to the tax-payers on insurance to an amount not less than $4,500.

The bond requires the Construction Company to begin the work in good faith by December 25, 1893, and to complete the plant according to the plans and specifications of the Water Works Company's contract with the city and have in successful operation in twelve months.

It has not as yet been decided from what point water will be brought. It may be from Slate creek, or from Hinkston creek above the crossing of the Levee pipe. The question of expense, quality and quantity of water will be considered in the question of deciding this matter. The people of this city are exceedingly anxious about water works, knowing that no city amounts to much without a supply of water. With a united move from this time, every man using his influence, Mt. Sterling can be made the best business town in the South.

The two negroes George and John Stoner, charged with killing Miss Trimble last week are a sleek pair of ducks. Of course their statement makes them innocent beyond even the slightest suspicion. They are very careful how they talk—"Don't know nothing," to a degree that they can not fail to make the impression that they do know something. The fact is there are too many murders in this country, some hanging must be done. Anarchists, cranks and lunatics are decidedly too numerous. A man may shoot another down in broad daylight without the slightest provocation and go free or go to and fro through the courts until the case is worn out and the murderer is set at liberty to wait an opportunity when he can even up with a witness or some other one of his enemies.

President Cleveland has granted a pardon to George Brashears, sentenced in Arkansas to be hanged for murder and the sentence commuted in 1889 to imprisonment for life. In extending clemency to the convict, the President says there was a lack of deliberation in the crime which belongs to murderers, and that there is strong probability that Brashears is innocent.

At the session of the Presbyterian Synod of Tennessee in Chattanooga Thursday, a report of a conference committee from the Southern and Northern wings of the church providing that the Presbyteries of the two Synods make overtures to the General Assembly favoring a union of the two churches was adopted.

Trots at the Fair grounds on afternoon of every day this week.

A negro campaign procession headed by John C. Wood and a negro band would be in order now.

Judge D. B. Lacy, of Owingsville, died at his home on Friday, aged 73 of pneumonia. Judge Lacy was well known in this city where he has many friends.

Born, to the wife of Charles H. Jones, Wednesday, October 25th, a 10 pound girl—Nannie. Master Charles sleeps higher than he can possibly do when he is nominated for Assessor.

We have many inquiries from parties desiring to rent farms. Three application now from parties who desire to pay money rent, one who wants to pay the cash in advance.

An Indianapolis dispatch states that the courts of Pike and Letcher counties, Ky., have established the title of a number of Indiana heirs to an estate of 20,000 acres in Eastern Kentucky. The property is said to be worth $2,000,000.

Courtland Chensault, of Pass. Traffic Department Big Four Ry., Cincinnati, Ohio, is in the city. He has been quite sick with fever but we are glad to say it is rapidly improving and hopes to be able to be on duty again in a few weeks.

The ADVOCATE job rooms don't have to send any of its business away from home. We are prepared to do all classes of work from a cheap poster to the handsomest and most delicate wedding invitations and visiting cards.

The death of Mrs. McCormick, wife of Mr. E. O. McCormick, the popular Passenger Manager of the Big Four, which occurred on last Thursday was a sad bereavement. We join Mr. McCormick's host of friends in tendering our profound sympathy in his depths of sorrow.

Go to A. Krebs, No. 10 West Main street, for bargains in dry goods, notions, clothing, boots and shoes. He has just arrived here from a forced sale with these goods. He wants the people to see his goods and learn his prices, for then they can't help but buy. Ten per cent. profit on actual cost prices.

"The White Republican nominees are between the Devil and the deep blue sea."

If they announce themselves for the Force bill and against the Jim Crow coach they will get in touch with the milk and cider Democrats, and if they are against negro equality and for the kitchen coach for the negro the negroes won't vote for them. The negroes should know the platform of their white bruders.

We understand that W. T. Fitzpatrick will attempt to procure an injunction restraining the County Clerk from having the names of the Democratic nominees placed on the ballots of the Third ward. This is to be done in retaliation for the injunction restraining the Clerk from putting his (Fitzpatrick) name on the ballot. There seems to be fun ahead all around. Go in boys, and when you get through with your monkey business, we will print the ballots, as per the Clerk's instructions.

In the case of J. W. Burroughs vs. G. A. Whitney, asking an injunction Judge Parker, of the 22nd Judicial district has ordered the Circuit Court Clerk of Montgomery county to issue an order enjoining G. A. Whitney, County Clerk from having printed on the ballots for the third ward in the city of Mt. Sterling to be used in the November election, the name of W. T. Fitzpatrick as an Independent candidate for councilman. The grounds for issuing this order are as follows: To the petition of Mr. Fitzpatrick requiring the County Clerk to have his name printed on the ballots of the third ward it appeared from affidavits that W. M. Dally was not a resident of the third ward, that Samuel Franks was not naturalized, and from the affidavits of Lewis Dean, Levi Kidd, Amos Thomas and Al Young they never signed the afore-said petition or authorized any one to sign it for them.

Enoch.

No Wonder She's Sick.

There is a little fourteen-year-old girl very sick at her home in this city. A visitor to her house the other day found the following list of books which she studies at school: United States History. Ray's Practical Arithmetic. Harvey's English Grammar. Principles of Civil Government. Eclectic Physiology. Ray's Elementary Algebra. Geography. Stoddard's Mental Arithmetic. Latin. Spelling, lesson to be written. She wrestles with this list of ten studies for six hours in the school-room every day, and from four o'clock in the evening until bed time. Is it any wonder that she is sick? Isn't it more remarkable that she has not died in tremors? It is not surprising that we see so many paid faces and spectacles among the little children these days.—Danville Advocate.

For Rent.

Double residence on corner of Mayville and High streets and double residence on Queen street. Also large tobacco barn, on East Main street, near gas plant. Apply to 13-21 TRIMBLE BROS.

IF YOUR BACK ACHES, Or you are all worn out, really good for nothing, try Enoch's TRON SYSTEM. It will cure you, give you rest, and give you a good appetite.

BARC-A-IN-HOUSE!

THE ADVOCATE.

It is estimated by the Canadian authorities that at least 1,000,000 pounds of opium refined in British Columbia are annually smuggled across the border into the United States.

In 1892 Massachusetts mills used 3,895,403 pounds of Egyptian cotton, and in 1891 but 1,823,400 pounds showing a progress toward the spinning of finer yarn of 2,832,000 pounds, or nearly 15 per cent.

There are in London 11,000 cabs, more than 15,000 drivers, and 25,000 horses, while altogether 120,000 human beings depend upon the business. The value of the stock is about $5,000,000, and the yearly earnings are $1,000,000.

It is reasonable to suppose that Ayer's Sarsaparilla has benefited others it will benefit you. No other medicine is so effective in producing a radical change in the blood and imparting renewed life and energy to the whole system, both nervous and physical.

More than 1,200,000 pieces of red silk, forty feet long and three feet wide, were made in the imperial factories to be used in the decoration of the streets of Peking on the sixtieth anniversary of the birth of the Empress Dowager of China, recently celebrated.

A contract was recently let in New York city at $1,089,219 for the construction of a drawbridge over the Harlem river. The bridge comprises a drawbridge 300 feet long and 80 feet wide, two deck spans 112 feet long each, and massive masonry approaches.

The total assessed valuation of property, real and personal, in the United States in 1890 was $24,651,585,365. If this valuation bears the same relation to the actual value as was found to be the case with the census returns of 1880, the actual value of property in the United States now is about $63,648,000,000.

A physician of the French Academy has removed a man's larynx, and made him an artificial talking apparatus with a bellows attachment. Science will now find some way to remove a diseased heart and replace it by a machine to pump blood. There are limits to the imagination, but there seems to be none to science.

Kieselguhr, which is nearly pure silica, has been recently moulded into fire bricks; and bricks made of this material are now being introduced into this country. They are very light, and nearly as infusible as quartz. The special character of kieselguhr renders the brick porous, and consequently increases its non-conducting properties.

The monolith of red sandstone, quarried on the south shore of Lake Superior, which is 110 feet long and 10 feet square at the base, and which it was intended to exhibit at the World's Fair, is to be cut up into building stone. It is the largest shaft ever quarried in America. The cost of transportation prevented its being taken to Chicago.

Switzerland now has nearly 10,000 miles of telephone wires and 10,000 subscribers, making 5,000,000 communications per annum; Belgium has 12,000 miles and 6,000 subscribers, making 10,000,000 communications; Germany has 70,000 and 46,531 subscribers, making about 257,000,000 communications; France has now about 20,000 subscribers in the 112 towns which have exchanges.

Mlle. Humbert, a woman whose life was shrouded in much mystery for many years, has died in a Paris garret at the advanced age of eighty-seven. The old dame passed as a mendicant owing to the shabbiness of her attire, and people, struck by her miserable appearance, sometimes spontaneously offered her alms in a street. She never refused the money, but was in the habit of receiving it of telling her benefactors to keep away from the side of her dress in which she kept her purse. This was usually set down to craziness. Surprise was great when it was discovered that Mlle. Humbert had left a large sum in bonds and bank notes sewn up in an old mattress, and that, moreover, she had a valuable collection of paintings by old and modern masters in her garret. It has come to light that the apparent mendicant was a great beauty in the days when Louis Philippe was King, and that the money and the pictures were gifts of her admirers.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. What this medicine has done for thousands of delicate women, it will do for you. If you are overworked and debilitated, if you build you up—if you're borne down with the chronic ache, pain, and weakness peculiar to your sex; if you're tired and weary, if you're sick and nervous, if you're pale and thin, if you're all due to the use of a few bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

A Pretty Incident.

The waiting-room at the ferry was crowded—the "last boat" to Oakland was expected every moment. As we took our seats I noticed a pretty girl sitting just in front of us. Her bonnet was one of the very latest—an ideal "love"—a bit of lace, a few loops of ribbon that stood straight up, some flowers and a bewitching pair of streamers. Such a mixture, but so becoming! She was chatting away to her escort. I knew by the indulgent manner in which he looked at her that he was not her husband. He was distinguished looking. Presently there was a commotion near the news-stand. Every body got up to look. It was a policeman trying to remonstrate with a woman who was walking around crying, with a child in her arms. They were wretched-looking creatures—looked frightened, miserable and hungry. The woman didn't understand a word of English. A good-natured German spoke to them in his mother-tongue; a little fat woman spoke to them in French; some one spoke in Spanish; some one else in Italian. But the poor soul only shook her head and continued to cry.

"Perhaps I can talk to her," I heard the pretty girl say; and to her escort's very apparent horror she pushed her way through the crowd.

When she spoke the poor woman's face grew radiant. She began to talk rapidly. Then the pretty girl did a brave thing. She stepped up on a seat and said in a sweet tremulous voice, "She is a stranger. She came from Honolulu this morning. Her husband promised to meet her in San Francisco. The hotel man isn't here. She doesn't know what to do. She hasn't a cent. This officer wants to take her to the station. I don't think we ought to let her go? Do you?"

She turned her face, beautiful now in its enthusiasm, all around, as if seeking an answer from the crowd. A man wearing a Salvation Army cap cried out:

"Who wants to help pay for a night's lodging?"

He threw a dime into his hat as he spoke. Everyone gave something. As we were crowding our way up the ferry-boat steps I heard the pretty girl say sweetly to her escort, who had evidently been lecturing her:

"I'm awfully sorry you feel so about it. But, honestly now, I just couldn't help it."—Detroit Free Press.

In one of his remarkable lectures, Tesla states that most scientific men now look upon the various forms of manifestations of energy, which are generally designated "electric," as energy manifestations of the same nature as those of radiant heat and light. The phenomena of light and heat, and others besides, may therefore be called electrical phenomena, and thus it is that electrical science has become the mother science of all and its study is important. The day when we shall know exactly what electricity is will chronicle an event probably greater and of more moment than any other recorded in the history of the human race.

Happy Hoozers

William Timmons, Postmaster of Daville, Ind., writes: "Electric Bitters has done more for me than all other medicines combined, for that bad feeling arising from kidney and liver trouble." John Leide, farmer and stockman, of same place, says: "Find Electric Bitters to be the best kidney and liver medicine, made me feel like a new man." J. W. Gardner, hardware merchant, same town says: "Electric Bitters is just the thing for a man who is all run down and don't care whether he lives or dies; he found new strength, good appetite and felt just like he had a new lease on life. Only 50 cents a bottle at W. S. Lloyd's drugstore."

REMARKABLE STATEMENT

By a Protestant Episcopal Divine Defending the Confessional.

At the Episcopal Church of the Redeemer, New York city, the other night, the Rev. W. E. Johnson, the rector and former associate of the Rev. Henry Adams, who recently withdrew from the ministry and joined the Roman communion, made a vigorous defense of the American Catholic movement in the Episcopal church. He denied that it led toward Rome, and asserted that occasional desertions thereto did not bear upon the success or failure of the movement. He defended the confessional as a means of reaching sin which no other could replace. It was an old church institution and not at variance with the book of common prayer, to which he professed the most profound allegiance; but because the Church of Rome employed it it was apt to be identified with it. Then, too, the church's teaching in the matter was apt to be classed as another move toward Rome. On the other hand, it was solely the outcome of the church's regard for the sacred institution and the purity of the family. In fact, American Catholics, instead of making toward the Roman communion, stood for loyalty to a national faith as against a foreign one and upon the rock of independent and free worship, as he saw the divine truth.

Burn Your Scraps.

As invariable a part of each day's household duties as the washing of the dishes, should be the regular and systematic burning of all unsavory bits, animal or vegetable. If the air about each individual's domicile were thus kept clean and pure, public precautions against pests would not be so essential and their lack not so fear-inspiring. A covered pan should be provided, into which may be put at once all scraps, refuse of fish, fowl, game, cabbage leaves, parings of carrots, turnips, potatoes, tea leaves, coffee grounds, bits of stalks, pea pods and the like. There they should remain covered until the dinner is served. Then while the kitchen fire is still hot they should be placed on the coals, covered with a few fresh coals or cinders and the stove lids replaced. Later, a raking down and fresh coal will cause the fire to burn up brightly and meantime all the disease-breeding scraps will have been reduced to harmless ashes.—Ex.

How To Water Cows.

According to a foreign experiment, some Dutch cows kept with water always in their stable gave much better results than when changed back where they could get water only twice a day. It was found that the milk yield increased where the cows had access to water at will, and no decrease of fat contents occurred. The daily increase of milk was small, but as estimated it would improve the yield about 40 gallons per year. A noticeable feature of the experiment is that the cows drank a little less when permitted to drink at will than when furnished water twice a day. According to this, the cow can water herself better than the best care could supply her with what she needs. By drinking often there was less chilling of the stomach than where water had to be taken twice a day, and each time in large quantities. The digestion was improved, as with each small draught of water some gastric juice was secreted and went with it, which was not the case to the same extent where large draughts of cold water had to be taken.—Am. Cultivator.

Whether a water wheel runs faster at night than in the day is a problem over which scientific readers of a German paper have been puzzling. The leading opinion is that the wheel does run faster at night, for the reason that the water is then cooler and somewhat more dense than when warmed by the sun.

Contrary to the opinion of very eminent geologists, Prof. Bonney contends that glaciers exert no excavating action, and this conclusion he bases on facts observed by him in the Swiss Alps. He had followed up many of the valleys in Switzerland, and the work of the glaciers in every instance showed, he believes, to be classed rather as abrasive than erosive. In the absence, however, of the erosive theory it will be difficult to account for the present character of many of the lochs on the west coast and in the interior of Scotland.

A highly respectable Indian gentleman, a member of the Bombay Anthropological Society—Mr. Sarai Chandra Mita—has come forward with an apparently well-authenticated story of a girl who has been discovered in Jalgaum in the den of fear. The young person's habits were decidedly beastly, for she tried to bite and scratch those who came near her, went down "on all-fours" for locomotion, and "growled at meals."

Another Republican Heard From.

"What Democratic paper is that which I hear is so pronounced against Republicanism and don't think any good Democrat will scratch his tickle?"

"The Advocate."

"The Advocate?" I thought that paper had busted. I stopped it and would not allow it to come to my house six months ago."

"Why, that's the paper that elected Judge Hazeligg. I wish all Republicans would stop it and let it bust. I don't believe we Republicans should take any Democratic paper now."

Malaria is responsible for half the deaths of all mankind, according to Dr. H. M. Clark. From his experience in India he learns that malaria is not confined to rich, low-lying soils, but is found even in sandy deserts. The negroes of the grain coast of western Africa and the Taurus of northern India are the only races proof against it. Both modern medicine and sanitation are powerless in dealing with it. Suggested preventives are the flooding of swamp lands and the planting trees that will retain water and shade the soil—such as the papain and banana, but not the eucalyptus.

Germany produces more zinc than any other country, and exports between 50,000 and 60,000 tons, against an importation of not quite 9,000 tons. The main zinc-producing district is in Upper Silesia, where the metal is made from calamine and zinc blende by distillation. In 1890, 139,000 tons of zinc were smelted, and 9,271 tons employed in the works. The value of the output was about $15,000,000.

A gentleman whose business takes him East once or twice a year and brings him into contact with leading merchants there has just returned from one of those journeys. He says that the merchants whom he saw looked ten years older than when he visited them six months ago. The strain they go through lately made the months age when like years.—Louisville Commercial.

Another Arctic expedition is to start from the United States next year. It is to be under the leadership of Robert Peary, the geographer, surveyor, and its object is the exploration of the territory to the north of Baffin's Bay and the west of Smith's Sound. Eight men will form the party, and will go by steamer to Sones Sound, where a supply station will be erected. From that point the party will explore as far as possible to the North and West.

REV. BEN THAYER.

He Was Too Sharp For The Confidence Crooks.

"Isn't this my old friend Gabriel Comstock, of Franklin Furnace?" said the smiling young man, approaching the stranger and extending his hand.

"No, sir," replied the stranger, "My name is Thomas Easley, and I'm from Wheelersburg."

"I beg your pardon," rejoined the other, politely, "but the resemblance is so extraordinary that I thought I could not be mistaking."

"That's all right. There's no harm done," said the stranger, passing on.

A few minutes later he was approached by another smiling young man, who met him on a street corner and stopped in great apparent astonishment.

"Why, how are you, Tom? Bless me, who would have thought of seeing you here?"

"Guess you're mistaken, young fellow."

"Mistaken? Not much! I'd know you a mile off. You're Thomas Easley, of Wheelersburg. Used to call you Tom when we were boys together."

"No you didn't. My name isn't Easley, and I don't know where Wheelersburg is."

"You're not Tom Easley?"

"No, sir. I never heard of Tom Easley. My name is Absalom Reinhardt, and I live in Greenup."

The smiling young man withdrew in evident disgust.

"Most have switched off some other fellow," he muttered, as he turned another corner. "But it's all right. Mr. Reinhardt will do just as well."

Meanwhile the stranger pursued his way leisurely down the street, and five minutes later he was confronted by a third young man with an engaging smile.

"Hello! Why this is my old friend Absalom Reinhardt. How are you Ab? How are things in Greenup?"

"I don't know you, sir. My name is not Absalom Reinhardt, and I don't know anything about Greenup. Never heard of it in my life."

"Say! Who are you, anyhow?"

The stranger handed him his card. It bore the following inscription:

REV. BEN THAYER, EVANGELIST.

REFORMED CONFIDENCE MAN.

Sir Charles H. Tupper states that in his opinion Canada has got the best of the bargain in the Bering Sea arbitration. By the decision at Paris the killing of seals with firearms or explosives was prohibited during the month of August, but for some unexplained reason the idea does not appear to have entered into the minds of those conducting the American case that an equally effective means for killing the seals was to be found in the air-guns, such as are now used for destroying whales, a spear being driven from the ship by compressed air. The sealers of British Columbia are already turning their attention to this means of evading the regulations laid down by the commission, and it is generally conceded that they will suffer no loss through the substitution of spears for firearms during the month in which they are prohibited from using the latter weapons for killing the seals.

Misdirected Energy.

The hold that fox-hunting has in Great Britain is well shown in the Fall Mail Budget's contents. There are 272 packs hunting from two to five days a week, these consisting of 20 packs of stagbonds, 180 foxbonds, 137 of harriers and 30 of beagles, and of these packs of stagbonds, 158 of foxbonds and 105 of harriers are in England, 6 of stagbonds, 29 of foxbonds, and 30 of harriers in Ireland and 9 of foxbonds and 2 of harriers in Scotland; nearly all the beagle packs in England.—Ex.

Remarkable Rescue.

Mrs. Michael Curtin, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement that she caught cold, which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine could cure her. Her sister suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption; she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefited from first dose. She continued its use and after taking ten bottles, found herself sound and well, now does her own housework and is as well as ever was.—Free trial bottles of this Great Discovery at W. S. Returned After Twenty-Three Years.

Twenty-three years ago Bluford Fleming, of Waliz township, near Wabash, Ind., called at the courthouse and informed Dr. C. S. Ellis, then Treasurer of the county, that he intended abandoning his family. He disappeared, and his wife, believing him dead or gone for good, married Coleman McDonald, an estimable citizen of Somerset. Her two sons by Fleming have grown to manhood, one of them running a barber shop at Marion, and the other being in business at Juncosville, Wis. Fleming was forgotten by everybody until the other day, when he suddenly appeared in Somerset, inquiring for the family he had so basely deserted. Mrs. McDonald positively declined to see the truant husband, who hung around the neighborhood for a day or two and disappeared again.

Owing to the financial trouble in which this country is at present involved the attempt to complete the fund for the erection and endowment of Phillips Brooks House at Harvard has been deferred, and the committee will therefore stop soliciting subscriptions for the present. Up to commencement $80,000 of the $300,000 needed has been subscribed, and since then, although no systematic effort has been made to increase the amount, many small sums have been sent in without solicitation. When the financial strain has relaxed, the work of raising the necessary amount will be resumed. One of the interesting facts in connection with the movement is that the money received has come principally from men who have not before contributed to the college. No appeals have been made to them, and the gifts have come as purely voluntary offerings and from no exclusive quarter. From many parts of the world men have sent in their share, often insignificant in amount, but suggestive of the world-wide renown and love in which the late Bishop was held. Two contributions have come from China, and others from Japan, India, South America and Europe.—Portland Transcript.

The Modern Jack Horner.
"Little Jack Horner sat in a corner eating out of his wooden bowl. He put in his thumb and took out a plum, and said 'What a good boy am I?'"
But little Jack Horner became a deep thinker. When other he grew and a glutton. For his liver, I'll state, was like a dead weight. As he drank wine and ate too much meat. Poor Jack's time of grief, however, was brief, and his sickness he ceased to be fearful. For a bono friend said "Well, let's try Pierce's Peppermint."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellet, absolutely effective in cases of sick headache, constipation, indigestion, and all derangements of the stomach and bowels. Satisfaction guaranteed.
$500 reward offered for an incurable case of Catarrh by the proprietors of Dr. Sage's Remedy. 50 cents; by druggists.

The Small Market.

Better prices are sometimes obtained in the towns and villages than in the large cities. Fats of poultry and eggs are shipped to the large markets, from which they are distributed to smaller towns, and in some cases the goods returned to the very place from which they came, through without the knowledge of the shipper or consignee. No market is ever fully supplied with eggs in the first months of the year, and good prices can be as readily obtained in markets nearer home as in the larger markets at a distance.—Mirror and Farmer.

There are white men enough left in this county to fill all the offices without calling in any negroes.

A vote for John Wood means an endorsement of the nomination of the negro Banks. Bear this in mind voters.

John C. Wood voted for the negro Asbury. If he was now a voter in the Third ward, he would vote for the "nigger" Banks.

We want to know the man who calls himself a Democrat, that will vote for John C. Wood or John Forman, whilst they have on the ticket with them a "nigger."

It is a nice commentary on the white Republicans of the Third ward that there were not two of them whom their party thought respectable enough to oppose for Councilman. They must needs nominate a "nigger."

Remember when you go to the polls one week from to-day the man who votes for John C. Wood, Republican, or John Forman, Republican, is also lending his influence for the election of Walter Banks, Republican and negro.

Will any Democrat vote for a man that wants to see a negro sitting among our councilmen? We think not. Brother Johnnie you won't get any Democratic votes and even the decent members of your own party won't support you.

That was a big mistake of yours, Johnnie, when you had the negro Banks put on the ticket with you. Our people have not fallen quite low enough to want a negro official in our city government. You will hear from them to this effect Tuesday.

A white man should be a man, and a white man that is, now, can a white Republican claim race superiority and vote for the negro Walter Banks? How can he advocate the Separate Coach Bill and vote to place a negro in the Council chamber by the side of white men?

The Republicans have a majority in the 3rd Ward, and they name a "nigger" for councilman. If they can get control of the entire city we would see "nigger" Policemen, "nigger" City Tax Collector, "nigger" Mayor, "nigger" City Judge, etc. etc. Wouldn't that be a nice mess.

That was a truthful saying and a hard step by the N. Y. World on McKinley. McKinley hits Democracy this way: "You voted for a change, and how do you like it?" To which the World retorts: "The Governor is slightly premature. We voted for a change and expect to like it when we get it."

Every Democrat in the city feels that the Republicans have offered him a personal insult in nominating a negro for Councilman of the city. Mr. John C. Wood and other white Republican nominees will find that self-respecting Republicans think likewise. Messrs. Wood, Forman, et al. will find that they will not be able to carry their party strength even, as a consequence of this action.

They say the negro Walter Banks, Republican nominee for councilman of the 3rd ward is something of a dude.

We don't know the coon but would think this a fair likeness.

John C. Wood City Judge, John Forman Chief of Police and Walter Banks city dad from the 3rd ward. What a beautiful, what a lovely trio as they "go marching on."

The next Legislature will be composed of strong, able-minded, active men with a few exceptions.

There is a large reserve of cash in our banks, which will be ready to go out on good paper as soon as the purchasing clause of the Sherman Bill has been settled.

Mr. John C. Wood, the Republican candidate for City Judge, is one of those bitter partisans that can see no reason why he should ever vote for a white Democrat against a black Republican. Mr. Wood is entitled to the unanimous support of his party; his conduct politically, has been such that no self-respecting Democrat can vote for him.

Judge Goodlow and Prof. Dodge, Democratic and Republican nominees for the Madison Senatorial district, are canvassing the district, and Dodge is forced to take his stand by the "Force Bill" and to favor the repeal of the Separate Coach Bill. This is some of the essence of Republicanism, and all Republicans, when they give vent to their real sentiments, are in accord with Mr. Dodge.

It was totally unnecessary for John C. Wood, or his friends, to have a negro candidate placed on the ticket with him to establish his Republicanism. His party record should have settled that most effectively. If he is anything, he is a Republican. We defy anyone to name anything his party leaders have suggested, let it be as partisan as it may, that John C. Wood has not advocated. Do you instance the Force Bill? He called it "a wise and patriotic measure." Do you say the McKinley tariff inquiry? He supported it with all his might. Do you suggest a vote for a negro nominee? When the negro Asbury was a candidate he registered his vote early. If not often. Do you suggest opposition to a Democratic candidate? When did he fail to assail the political record one in the very bitterest terms? Oh, yes, Brother Johnnie is a Republican.

President Cleveland emphatically announced his opposition to any compromise of the Vorhees Bill; that or nothing he said. At once the markets began to take on a healthy tone that they had not exhibited for months. The commercial agencies all report the certainty of the repeal of the Sherman Purchase Clause has started a revival of business in every direction. To illustrate: one Review says: "Fort is in sight after a long and stormy voyage, and the prospect of a speedy end of the struggle over repeal has brought bright hopes to business. Stocks climbed rapidly for three days, banks relaxed restraint, commercial loans are more freely sought and made, and reports from all quarters show the prevalence of more hopeful feeling."

Some of the Republicans, after having found out what a mistake they have made in nominating the negro Banks, for Councilman from the Third Ward, with characteristic meanness, are attempting to saddle their dirty work upon either shoulder of the silly attempt to say that Charles Wilson, the Democratic nominee for Chief of Police, brought out the negro because his father, Mr. J. D. Wilson, was also nominated by the Republicans, is such a transparent falsehood that it is scarcely worth a denial. Mr. Charles Wilson authorizes us to brand the statement as "a lie out of whole cloth." Republicans, it won't do; you have nominated your "nigger," now swallow your nauseating dose. The color may be a little strong, but if you can't stand it any other way, hold your noses whilst you take your medicine.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrup, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd, cures Diarrhoea and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulency. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."
Dr. G. C. Ouseley,
Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other harmful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."
Dr. J. F. Knechtel,
Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."
R. A. Adams, M. D.,
111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we were free to confirm that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."
UTTER HOWELL AND DUNHAM,

A Deficit in Sight.

Republican legacies are giving the country a vast deal of trouble.

First came the culmination of the mischief worked by the Silver-Purchase act—a Republican makeshift passed to protect President Harrison and the placate the silver States.

And now the Treasury announces a probable deficit of $50,000,000 at the end of the fiscal year.

This is unwelcome news, but it is not a surprise to the readers of The World. They have been advised of the situation from time to time in our Washington dispatches, which were based upon authentic information.

The first legacy of evil could be easily disposed of. But a number of the Democratic Senators will not even accept the help of repentant Republicans in repealing the law. They persist in perpetuating this source of trouble by preventing a vote to abolish it.

The same spirit on the part of a Republican minority may prevent a just and proper method of dealing with the deficit, which originated in the extravagance of the Billion-Dollar Congress. The whole tendency of the obstructing Southern Senators is to compel a bond issue—a permanent increase of the national debt.

Would not this be a beautiful issue for the Democrats to meet in the Congressional elections next year? Are not the Bourbon Democrats of the Senate playing a fine game of politics if they really have cause to dread a Republican restoration?—New York World.

Our friend, Col. Thos. Johnson, a staunch old Democrat, was discussing the political situation a few days since, when he rather abruptly exclaimed: "Henry Watterson is my kind of a Democrat. He fought Cleveland in good hard earnest before his nomination, and since the inauguration, in the face of all the ridicule and vituperation heaped upon him, he has exhibited to his readers the sublimest consistency in according to the administration the most loyal support of any editor in the entire country. Cleveland is the veriest ingrate if he does not most highly appreciate such support from such a man."

President Cleveland will be hard put to it to do more than that tend to give dignity and command respect and confidence for his administration, than his many and emphatic demand for an unconditional repeal of the purchasing clause of the Sherman Silver Law. His administration was on trial and the public was only waiting to see if he had lost any of his old-time backbone. He has stood the test grandly, and let the repeal come to-day or a year hence, he has made himself solid—so solid in the confidence and respect of all classes that nothing can now shake it. The opposition press may rail at him as it will, their shafts must fall harmless at his feet.

The school age children in the United States number 19,000,000.

Demoniac Rather Than Maniac

There is a great deal more of being "possessed of a devil" than insanity (if one may be allowed the distinction) in these fellows who go about with pistols in their hands and murder in their hearts slaying our officials. The brutal murder of Carter Harrison, Mayor of Chicago, on Saturday night by a man who tried to masquerade in the guise of a lunatic, is a case in point. Nothing but swift sure vengeance at the hands of the law can teach those so "possessed," a lesson. Let Chicago furnish the Country with an example of prompt punishment; it is a duty she owes to herself and the nation.

We are for Ben R. Turner for City Judge because he is the Democratic nominee; because he is well equipped for the position; because he is honest, upright gentleman; because he will fill the position with credit to himself and with fairness and impartiality to all who have business before him. Can anyone say more for Mr. John C. Wood? We can say a great deal against him politically. In fact it would take columns to simply enumerate his political sins; and so monstrous are some of these that the very mention of them almost throws him into convulsions. Mr. Wood is in this respect like a great many other people: his own knowledge of his villainies does not disturb him; it is what his neighbors may think of his shortcomings. The only harm, he thinks, is to have his political nastinesses found out on him. If we dare to mention that he thought the Force Bill "a wise and patriotic measure," he squeals like a stuck pig or if we call attention to his vote for his negro friend, Asbury, he grows black in the face with uncontrollable wrath.

Forker has taken the Ohio stump to "plead for the purity of the ballot." This is the same Mr. Forker who lured Mr. Halstead into the ballot-box forgery conspiracy during the campaign of 1889.

The administration has served notice on both Houses of Congress that it expects and demands that the promises made to the people by the Democratic party shall be fulfilled. Grover may be able "to tame the team of wild colts," yet.

Clifford Blackman
Boston Boy's Eyesight
Saved—Perhaps His Life

By Hood's Sarsaparilla—Blood Purified by Cancer.

Read the following from a grateful mother:
"My little boy had Scarlet Fever when a year old, and it left him very weak and with blood poisoned with cancer. His eyes became so inflamed that his sufferings were intense, and for seven weeks he Could Not Open His Eyes.

I took him twice during that time to the Eye and Ear Infirmary on Charles street, but their remedies failed to do him the faintest shadow of good. I commenced giving him Hood's Sarsaparilla and it soon cured him. I have never doubted that it saved his eyesight, even in the way you propose. I am always ready to sound the praises of

Hood's Sarsaparilla
because of the wonderful good it did my son."
ANNE F. BLACKMAN, 2808 Washington St.,
Boston, Mass. Q10072.

Hood's Pills are hand made, and are perfect in composition, proportion and appearance.

Will Have Opposition.

County Attorney Robert Harding, of Danville, is likely to be a candidate against Hon. James B. McCree for Congress. Mr. Harding is a talented young man, very popular, and Mr. McCree would have a time of it with this opposition.

A tabulated estimate by competent authorities shows that the number of cotton bales ginned in Texas this year up to October 15th is 412,297, against 557,551 last year. It is thought the crop will fall 25 per cent. below that of last year.

In the Kentucky Court of Appeals Thursday Judge Hazlett handed down an important decision in the railroad tax cases. By an act passed in 1884 and repealed in 1886, new railroads were exempt from the payment of taxes for five years. Litigation in the Circuit Court resulted in favor of the railroads, but the Appellate decision holds that only four roads were entitled to exemption, and that twelve owe the State, some in whole and some in part for the taxes owed for.

Rev. F. Agar, missionary in Eastern Kentucky, was in the city last week. His wife continues in very poor health at her son's, J. W. Agar, in Baltimore, with very little hopes of recovery. Mrs. Agar has been engaged with her husband in the missionary work for twenty-nine years.

Mr. Agar preached at Salt Lick Saturday evening and Sunday morning and evening; Monday evening at Morehead, and will preach this evening at Olive Hill. Mr. Agar informs us that a Congregational church house has been erected near Spradling Wolfe county, much to the delight of the people of that section.

Died, on Wednesday evening, the 26th inst., at the home of her son-in-law, A. S. Ratliff, corner of Clay street and Howard avenue, of cancer of the stomach, Mrs. Willie Bourne, aged 76 years. She had been sick about three months, and patiently and with a Christian fortitude she awaited the hour of dissolution. For many years she had been a member of the Christian church and was unrelenting in the faith confided in Christ her Saviour. A loving mother and faithful Christian to the end. She leaves three daughters: Mrs. Thomas Gossett, Independence, Mo.; Mrs. H. L. Stone, Louisville, and Mrs. A. S. Ratliff, of this city; and two sons: Edgar Bourne, of Taylorsville, and James Bourne, of Louisville, all of whom were here except Mrs. Gossett. Her remains were taken to Lexington Saturday and buried in the Lexington cemetery.

FAIR TRIAL of Hood's Sarsaparilla guarantees a complete cure. It is an honest medicine, honestly advertised and it honestly cures.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Miss Frankie Hampton is visiting in Jessamine county.

Hon. J. W. Pierst, of Ezell, was in the city last week.

Mrs. Fannie Priest has returned from the World's Fair.

Mrs. J. W. Ross will return home from Liberty Mo. to-day.

Miss Mary Lou Tucker, of Winchester, visited Miss Nettie Hunt this week.

Mrs. C. M. Lillard and daughter have returned from a visit to Anderson county.

Judge Reuben Gudgeon, of Owingsville, was in the city Thursday on legal business.

Mrs. Helwig and daughter, Miss Lizzie, of Middlesborough, are visiting her sons, Charlie and Will.

Stephen French, of Atlanta, Ga., visited relatives and friends here from Friday until Monday.

Mr. R. Krebs has arrived here from Chattanooga with his family and is engaged in the mercantile business.

Wm. Durham and wife who attended the wedding of Miss Lizzie McKee and Mr. Vanderlin at Cynthia, returned home yesterday.

Mrs. Katie Smith and daughter Miss Lucy, visited Mrs. Smith's stepmother, Mrs. Scott, last Sunday, who is quite sick at her home in Clark county.

The wedding of Miss Nannie Welsh of this county, and Mr. Wm. George, of Winchester, has been announced to take place at St. Patrick's church, in this city at an early day.

Mr. Wm. Stephens, of Farmers, spent Sunday with his father, Mr. Wm. Stephens Sr., who is quite sick at the home of his son-in-law, Mr. R. C. Robinson, on the Camargo pike.

Judge Thomas F. Hargis, of Louisville, was in the city Wednesday en route for Morehead. He has been employed to assist in the defense of Sheriff Fouch, charged with the murder of County Clerk Johnson, which occurred at Morehead.

A most ingenious system is employed by which the Director of the Suez Canal can tell at a glance the exact position of all vessels passing through it. A model is placed in the office at Port Said, and the whole canal is worked from headquarters by means of telegraph, the position of each ship being marked by a figure on the model. It is therefore easy to arrange for vessels passing each other.

It has been given out that, with the December number, the personal equation will be eliminated from Fetter's Southern Magazine, and that popular periodical will be known in the future as The Southern Magazine. Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

Those who did not attend the young men's meeting on Sunday afternoon, missed a good meeting. There was a large attendance of young men, and Rev. A. J. Arrick's address on "a sure antidote" was much appreciated.

Next Sunday at 3 o'clock, Rev. D. Clay Lilly will speak to young men. These meetings are interesting and helpful, and every young man in Mt. Sterling is cordially invited to attend.

The crokinole tournament which has been in progress in the Association rooms for several evenings past is immensely popular. The social room is crowded each evening with young men.

Don't forget to renew. Every young man who has been a member and has not renewed this year should do so at once. He should not only keep up his own but also bring in new members.

The week commencing Sunday, Nov. 13th, will be observed as a week of prayer for young men by the Associations of all lands. The observance of this session in past years has been productive of great good to this work for and by young men.

The gymnasium classes will be held as usual this week under the direction of General Secretary Reese, of the Winchester Association. The classes are increasing in interest and attendance.

RELIGIOUS.

Regular business meeting at the Baptist church next Saturday morning at 11 o'clock.

The Brackin Board, Baptists, will meet at Carlisle next Friday morning. Members of the board, from the Mt. Sterling Baptist church are expected to be present. This will be their first meeting since the meeting of the association last August and there will be important business before the body.

A protracted meeting will begin at Carmargo, Monday, November 6th, and will be conducted by Rev. Lancaster and the pastor, Rev. J. P. Ross. Everybody invited.

Catarrah in the Head

Is undoubtedly a disease of the blood, and as such only a reliable blood purifier can effect a perfect and permanent cure. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best blood purifier, and it has cured many very severe cases of catarrah. Catarrah oftentimes leads to consumption. Take Hood's Sarsaparilla before it is too late.

Hood's Pills do not purge, pain or gripe, but act promptly, easily and efficiently. 25 cents.

Artificial India Rubber.

Artificial India rubber from cotton seed oil is one of the latest industrial products, and claimed to possess commercial adaptations of peculiar practical value. The manufacture involves a process not yet given out to the public by the discoverer, who states that while experimenting with the cotton seed oil to produce a varnish for painting, he obtained a substance entirely foreign in its make-up and properties to what was sought—not a varnish, but rubber. So simple is the process, so alleged, that it is not within the protection of a patent—the only safeguard being, therefore, in the secrecy of the process, by the use of which, it is asserted, only 15 per cent. is required of the genuine rubber to produce an article which can in no way be distinguished from the ordinary crude India rubber.—The Tradesman, London.

Money Wasted.

"A lot of advertising is going out blindly, and this, too, in spite of the complaint of hard times, when one would expect the greatest care to be exercised. The money thus expended is lost. It does the advertiser no good, and the newspapers get no more for the space than they would for telling matter."

This is strikingly illustrated in certain local work that is being done in various cities where there is sharp competition for trade in all lines.

"The trouble with the matter used is that no special reason is given for going out of the way to deal with the advertisers in question. The advertisements amount to little more than a sign. It is not enough to say that John Smith sells the best and cheapest soap at a certain corner."

"It might be very well if there were only one or two shoe stores in a place, but when others are using every means to draw the crowd by specific offers of inducements, something more than a mere directory is needed to get results."

"Those advertisers who do not rise above these methods find business dull, while their competitors who nail the attention of the public by forcible and specific utterances upon some definite point get the trade."

"The good old days when dignity and conservatism were the only considerations are gone, never to return. The change may be deprecated, but it has come and must be met. Those who lie back on their oars will have the mortification of seeing the procession go by."

"The merchant with the stiff collar may sneer at the 'Yankee' and the 'Jew' with their innovations, but the advertiser who does not accept the style of the times will find little comfort in the result."

The above article we have clipped from the National Advertiser, because it is applicable in a large measure to the business interests of Mt. Sterling. Firms that advertise according to ancient methods had as well keep out of advertising mediums, and those who do not advertise at all had better close up shop. Both classes may be able to pay their rents, their clerk hire and other running expenses, but this is all. When the time comes to wind up business it is then ascertained that the firm, it may be, is where it started, but most generally is found to be in an insolvent state. Firms who succeed advertise, and do it according to modern methods. We drop these hints that our customers may govern themselves accordingly. A live, active, aggressive journal and modern methods employed alone will bring desired results.

SAVED MONEY.

A Husband Leads His Wife to Believe That He's Economical

"Henry," she said slowly, as one who has long thought over the subject and wished to make it impressive, "you smoke a great deal."

"Fifteen cigars a day," she said, shaking her head.

"No," he answered; "only seven."

"Only seven," she repeated, "at 20 cents apiece?"

"No," he again replied; "they are 10 cents each."

"That is 70 cents a day," she murmured, taking out a pencil and paper, and—

"Oh, Henry," she whispered, "it is only for your sake, I've been thinking, and—and, you know—"

"Margie," he cried, "I will explain—"

"She shook her head dolefully, causing the tears to fall upon the roses in her lap like the summer dew."

"I will explain," he continued. "They are 10 cent cigars, but beloved, by smoking seven a day I get a discount from the dealer, and they cost me only eight cents each, so I save $5.10 a year by that method."

"She looked at him a moment, and then laid her head on his shoulder."

"Henry," she whispered, "you are economical, after all."

Tore Down the Confederate Flag

With evident pride in his achievement, Major Isaac B. Brown, Deputy Secretary of Internal Affairs of Harburg, admits that he is the man who tore down the Confederate flag hoisted over the locomotive "General," in the transportation department at the World's Fair on October 6th. Major Brown was a member of the Two Hundred and Eleventh Pennsylvania volunteers, and belongs to a J. J. Anderson, who captured the "General," with 21 Ohio soldiers used it to burn bridges in the South. For these deeds Anderson and seven soldiers were hanged.

Major Brown says that when he caught sight of the Confederate flag on the "General," while walking through the Transportation building, he became indignant. After thinking the matter over he climbed upon the locomotive and tore down the Southern banner, which he proposes to present to Corry post.

Anarchy Not to be Countenanced.

The conviction of Emma Goldman is notice to anarchists that their infernal doctrines are not to be openly preached in this community with impunity—that to attempt to induce violence and lawlessness by reckless, incendiary harangues is an offense which will not be overlooked by the public authorities. During the trial, stress was laid on the fact that no disorder was incited by the utterances of this woman. That is not to the point. Anarchy is a danger not to be trifled with. Its preaching is not to be countenanced. The surest safeguard against anarchy is not to permit its advocacy. The latter is a crime under our law and should be promptly dealt with as such. When anarchists are taught this they will be less reckless of speech.—N. Y. Herald.

Seamless tubes of steel are now produced from a metal by process invented by a German named Erichard of Dusseldorf. The bar of hot steel is placed in a strong matrix having the hole the exact diameter of the outside of the tube. A mandrel with rounded end is then forced through the mass. Tubes eight inches in diameter have been made by this process, the pressure to operate the mandrel being 180 tons.

A French authority on cooking gives these rules for testing the heat of an oven: Try it with a piece of white paper. If too hot the paper will blacken or blaze up; if it becomes a lighter brown, it is fit for pastry; if it turns dark yellow, it is fit for bread and the heavier kinds of cake; if light yellow the oven is ready for sponge cake and the lighter kind of desserts.

During 1892 we imported 89,610, 741 pounds of tea, valued at $14,267, 411. This represents a per capita consumption of 1.37 pounds. The per capita consumption in 1887 was 1.49.

A Happy Family.

"Thus was with the Johnsons after Dr. Fenners' Kidney and Backache Cure. He had been rescued from the grasp of the use of Dr. Fenners' Kidney and Backache Cure. He writes: 'My father died of kidney disease. I inherited it. Had become so bad that medical treatment ceased to benefit me and I was given over to die. One bottle of Dr. Fenners' Kidney and Backache Cure practically cured me, though I continued it a little longer to be safe. My digestion improved at once, my kidneys and I am now well man.' Write him at Buxi, N. Y. Certain in all kidney diseases, female complaints, backache, soreness or lameness over back, stones in bladder, etc. Also the Great Blood Purifier, removing promptly all impure and poisonous matter from the blood, curing skin eruptions and scurfy, dandruff, heart disease, rheumatism, drowsiness, indigestion, sleeplessness, constipation, headache. Money refunded if satisfaction not given. Take home a bottle to-day."

The World's Fair and American Railways.

The Queen & Crescent Route widely known as the road running the "Finest Trains in the South," is in the field to carry everybody from the South to the World's Fair at Chicago. No part of the Southern country is left uncared for by this great railway and its connections. The Through Car System is an admirable exposition of the wonderful capabilities of American railroading. From New Orleans Through Sleeping Cars run daily, morning and evening, carrying, its passengers via Cincinnati or Louisville, as they may select.

From Shreveport, Vicksburg and Jackson another Through Sleeping Car Line comes to join and become a part of the magnificent Vestibuled Through Trains, which passing through Birmingham and the famous Wills Valley of Alabama, is joined at Chattanooga by the train from Jacksonville, Fla., Brunswick, and Atlanta, Ga., over the E. T. V. & Ga. railroad, and proceeds north over the beautiful Cincinnati Southern, through the grandest natural scenery and most attractive historical country in the world, to Oakdale, where another magnificent Pullman car is received, coming from the Richmond & Danville System from Charleston, S. C., through Columbia, S. C., the beautiful French Broad country, and Asheville, N. C. and Knoxville, Tenn.

The time to Chicago is made so as afford the most convenient hours for departures from the principal cities and arrivals in Chicago.

Passengers can purchase tickets good over one line north of the river, and returning via another if they desire a variable route without extra charge. Or they can go via Cincinnati, returning via Louisville, or vice versa.

Round trip tickets on sale at reduced rates. Agents of the Chicago line will on request assist in looking up rooms or accommodation for visitors to the Fair.

Everything that an almost perfect system can devise to deserve the praise and patronage of the traveling public has been provided. Any of the agents of the company named below, will cheerfully give all possible information and assistance. R. H. Garratt, New Orleans, La.; J. H. Vicksburg, Miss.; J. R. McGregor, Birmingham, Ala.; E. T. Charleston, S. C.; W. D. Cox, Chattanooga, Tenn.; W. D. Cox, Junction City, Ky.; or D. G. Edwards, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Mexico's standing army numbers 44,000 men, or about double that of the United States.

In every mile of railroad there is seven feet and four inches that is not covered by the rails—the space left between them for expansion.
